Clarke County Revenue Commissioner

Clarke County, Alabama

- Located in Southwest Alabama
- Relatively rural county with a population of approximately 23,000
- Third largest county in state by land area.
- The timber industry and mills associated with it dominate our economy.

Official Charged with Administering Tax Laws

- The offices of Tax Assessor and Tax Collector are elected by the voters of each county in Alabama for a six-year term.
- However, only 9 of the 67 counties in Alabama still retain separate offices for the Tax Assessor and Tax Collector.
- Fifty-eight counties have combined these offices into a position now known as the Revenue Commissioner. The Revenue Commissioner is responsible for all duties formerly held by the separate Assessor and Collector offices.
- By local act in 1988, which was approved by the voters of Clarke County, the offices of Tax Assessor and Tax Collector were combined to form the Office of the Revenue Commissioner.

Property Taxes in Alabama

- The tax collecting official in each county in Alabama collects all ad valorem property taxes. This includes taxes due to the State of Alabama, county government, school boards, and municipalities. In addition, some collecting officials collect taxes or fees for fire districts, hospitals, or solid waste.
- Because we are an ad valorem state that collects based off millage rates, tax collections are based off of the total value of property in the county and the millage rate set by law. If these funds are insufficient to fund government, the government must either adjust spending or vote to increase the millage rate.
- Millage rate in Clarke County: 38 mills in municipalities; 33 mills unincorporated areas.
- Total exemptions on primary residences are available for taxpayers who are either 100% disabled or over 65 with taxable income less than $12,000.
- A standard homestead exemption is available for taxpayers who own and occupy a home as their primary residence, regardless of age or income.
- The Revenue Commissioner's Office also handles "current use" exemptions (i.e., agricultural and timber), as well as ensuring that economic abatements are applied as approved by the governing bodies.

• In Alabama, we collect ad valorem property taxes on real and personal property. This includes real estate, equipment used in businesses, and motor vehicles. Certain manufactured homes are assessed for ad valorem purposes, and others are taxed at a flat-fee for annual registration.

The Abstract

- No later than the second Monday in August of each year, the tax assessing official is required to deliver an abstract to the tax collecting official that contains a list of all taxable property in the county and the taxes due thereon for the upcoming tax year.
- This abstract becomes the basis for all collections, end-of-year balancing, and audits.
- Any changes to the abstract are done in the form of an "error and supplement" and must be documented. These must be approved by the County Commission at the end of the tax year before balancing with the State of Alabama in a process known as "Final Settlement."
- The tax collecting official is responsible for ensuring that all monies listed on the abstract are collected or either there is a proper credit through an error and supplement or the sale of the property for taxes. Otherwise, the tax collecting official is personally liable for paying the difference at final settlement.

Timeline for Tax Collections

- Taxes due and payable: October 1st of each year
- Last day to pay without penalty: December 31st
- Late notices are mailed as soon as possible after January 1st
- Tax Sale held between March 15 and June 15 of each year for any taxes that remain unpaid.
- Final Settlement must be completed by June 30th.

To Whom Property Is Assessed

- Alabama assesses property taxes one year in arrears.
- Property is always assessed to the owner as of the prior October 1st.
- You have to be the owner as of October 1 of the prior year to receive the assessment and bill for the following year.
- Therefore, if you buy a home October 15th, 2024, it will not be assessed to you until October 1, 2026.
- This can create collection issues, as old owners usually will not pay the bill and oftentimes have moved.
- Therefore, many collecting officials send copies of the tax bills to the "new owners."

Notification of Taxes Due

- In Alabama, tax bills are only a courtesy. Tax collectors are not required to mail the original tax notice. Therefore, the failure to receive a tax bill does not excuse non-payment.
- Tax collecting officials are required to mail the delinquent notice after January 1st to the taxpayer at their last known address.
- Notices are required leading up to the annual Tax Sale and vary based upon the tax collecting official's decision to use a Tax Lien Sale or traditional Tax Sale.

Notifying Owners

- In addition to mailing tax bills, many tax collecting officials are beginning to explore the use of e-mail to notify taxpayers of unpaid property taxes.
- For example, Mobile County, Alabama, now sends system-generated emails to delinquent taxpayers in the weeks leading up to the Tax Sale.
- Our county has recently began collecting emails and phone numbers for taxpayers. This data is used to contact the taxpayers when the property taxes become delinquent.
- Several tax officials, including myself, personally visit properties where the taxes are delinquent in order to attempt to collect payment.

Methods of Payment

- Each tax collecting official has the authority to decide what forms of payment are accepted and when such forms of payment are accepted.
- Checks and money orders are made out personally in the name of the tax collecting official.
- The vast majority of counties now allow online payments.
  - Clarke County did not begin online payments until 2022.
- State statutes prohibit the tax collecting official from paying credit card fees from the monies collected. Therefore, a credit card processing fee is added to all transactions where a credit or debit card is used.
- Clarke County accepts cash, checks, money orders, credit/debit cards, and e-checks.
- Payments can be made online, in the office, by mail, or over the phone.
- Many collecting officials cut-off certain forms of payment in preparation for the Tax Sale.
  - Personal and e-checks get shut off in my county on February 28th of each year.
  - Credit and debit cards are turned off 21 days prior to the auction.

The offices of Tax Assessor and Tax Collector were combined by a local act in 1988 to form the Office of the Revenue Commissioner. The Revenue Commissioner now serves as both the Tax Assessor and Tax Collector of Clarke County. The Revenue Commissioner is elected by the voters of Clarke County and serves a six-year term.

Tyler Montana Prescott was elected to the position of Revenue Commissioner in 2020. Commissioner Prescott holds an accounting degree from the University of West Alabama and a master's degree from Troy University. He is currently pursuing his juris doctorate. Prescott has extensive knowledge in property tax law and real estate, and he brings a common-sense approach to problem-solving that he obtained while being a small-business owner. He is a lifelong resident of Clarke County and is involved in numerous civic organizations.

The Revenue Commissioner is required to annually locate, assess, and uniformly appraise all real and personal property within Clarke County. The Revenue Commissioner also maintains current ownership maps of the county based on the most recent recorded documents of conveyance.

The Revenue Commissioner lists and places a value on all real estate and personal property (which includes such items as machinery,

Partial Payments & Hardship Cases

- Alabama law provides that the tax collecting official has the authority to decide whether or not his or her office accepts partial payments.
- A partial payment does not prevent the property from being sold at the Tax Sale.
- The inability to pay taxes does not prevent the property from being sold for taxes. We are statutorily required to sell all property with unpaid taxes in the spring immediately following the delinquency.

What do we do with the money?

- Tax collecting officials are statutorily required to "invest" the money they collect prior to distributing it. Practically speaking, the officials put the money in an interest-bearing account.
- Ad valorem property taxes are distributed every 15 days to all entities who receive proceeds from the tax collecting official. This disbursement must be done within 5 days of the collection period ending.
  - Example: March 1-15 collections must be distributed by March 20th.
- The salary of the Revenue Commissioner, any supernumerary officials, and the budget for reappraisal is all withheld from the ad valorem distributions and earmarked for those budgetary items.
- Manufactured home and automobile collections must be distributed by the 20th of the month following the collections.

Delinquencies

- Delinquent tax accounts are charged 12% interest beginning January 1st until the time the taxes are paid or the land is sold for taxes.
- Each property is also charged a $5 delinquent citation fee beginning January 1st.
- Taxpayers are responsible for additional costs associated with the delinquency, including any certified mail fees, newspaper advertising fees, and tax auction fees.
- Several counties have adopted local legislation to implement a late fee of $1 or $2 per day. These are only in a small minority of counties, and they are controversial as to the constitutionality of them.

Tax Sale Time

- Beginning with the tax collection year for 2019, tax collecting officials in Alabama had the opportunity to convert from the traditional Tax Sale to the Tax Lien Sale.
- The decision of which method to use in collecting delinquent taxes is left solely to the discretion of the county's tax collecting official.
- Approximately 80% of the tax collecting officials in Alabama have chosen to utilize the new Tax Lien Sale method.

Tyler v. Hennepin County - What We Did

- Legislation enacted after the 2009-2010 foreclosure crisis prevented homeowners from claiming their excess bid, unless they redeemed their taxes.
  - Now, owners can claim the excess bid if they submit an affidavit waiving their right of redemption.
- For Tax Lien Sales, since there is no excess bid (i.e., no equity to claim), homeowners can now petition the court during the foreclosure sale for a clerk's sale. In that case, the property will be sold to the highest bidder. The investor is paid the taxes, interest, and penalties they have expended, plus any interest due to them. The remaining amount is paid to the homeowner.
- Additional notice requirements were added to the Tax Lien Sale foreclosure process, and the redemption period was extended from three to four years.

Final Settlement

- Each year, prior to July 1, the tax collecting official is required to submit "Final Settlement" to the State Comptroller's Office.
- Failure to submit the report on time will result in a daily penalty that is the personal liability of the tax collecting official.
- The purpose of Final Settlement is to ensure that all monies listed on the abstract were collected or properly credited for the preceding tax year.
- Any shortage must be paid personally by the tax collecting official.
- Final settlement is utilized by the Examiners of Public Accounts when conducting their audits of our offices.
